is entitled "Supply Plan of the Red Army for the First, Second, and Third Quarter of 1949" and bears the date 23 September 1949. It is not clear whether this is a mistake and should read 23 September 1948 when the plan was possibly made up, or whother it is the date when the report was copied. At any rate, 23 September 1949 is too early a date to include totals of actual deliveries made during the third quarter of 1949. It seems more likely, therefore, that the above report refers to planning figures for rather than supplies furnished by Thuringia.
